Democrats Pledge Prosperity, Peace, Progress In Party's New Platform

'Civil Rights' Feud Avoided

They Look With Pride At Previous 20 Years

CHICAGO, July 24 — (P)—Democrats have pledged prosperity, peace and progress to the nation's voters in a platform that avoided past party feuds over "civil rights."

A quick decision by Chairman Sam Rayburn, after a mixed shout of yea and no votes, put the national convention's official approval on the new campaign document early Thursday morning.

Delegates from Georgia and Mississippi asked to be recorded as voting "No," and one from Tennessee objected to the platform's lack of a congressional crime investigating committee plank.

Actually the compromise was settled in two separate sections of the platform.

Northerners had insisted on a plank demanding an end to Senate filibusters that often have killed off civil rights and other bills.

INSTEAD THEY got a broadly worded plank calling for improvement of "congressional procedures so that the majority rule prevails and decisions can be made after reasonable debate without being blocked by a minority in either house."

"We will continue our efforts to eradicate discrimination based on race, religion or national origin," the civil rights section stated after calling for equal opportunities for voting, education, economic advancement and living conditions.

"We know this task requires action, not just in one section of the nation but in all sections," it continued in a style pleasing to Southerners.

"It requires the cooperative effort of individual citizens and action by state and local governments."

Northerners liked the next phrase:

"It also requires federal action. We favor federal legislation effectively to secure these rights to everyone: (1) the right to equal opportunity for employment; (2) the right to security of persons; (3) the right to full and equal participation in the nation's political life, free from arbitrary restraints."

"WE ALSO FAVOR legislation to perfect existing federal civil rights statutes and to strengthen the administrative machinery for the protection of civil rights."

Other planks in the long platform caused no serious trouble.

They looked back with pride over 20 years of Democratic administration under the "New" and "Fair" Deals.

"Our country has moved steadily along the road which has led the United States of America to world leadership in the cause of freedom," one said. "We will not retreat one inch along that road."

Republicans were flayed repeatedly as the Democrats listed their policies for business, farmers, labor, veterans, aged persons and a score of other population segments.

Even GOP platform criticism of corruption and Communism in government drew replies.

The Democrats said the party "has been alert to the corroding and demoralizing effects of dishonesty and disloyalty in the public service," and added:

"It has exposed and punished those who would corrupt the integrity of the public service."

President Truman's loyalty program was said to have kept out "subversive elements" and at the same time protected "honest and

Leist Ordered Into Training

Circleville Water Manager Ervin Leist received "greetings" from the U. S. Army Thursday by special delivery.

Leist, a captain in the Army Reserve, received a special delivery order Thursday to report for training Sunday in Louisville, Ky.

The training will be in the Louisville Medical Depot and will continue until Aug. 10.

Tremendous Ovation Given Barkley

Man Labeled 'Too Old' Sets Democratic Convention Afire

CHICAGO, July 24 — (P)—They said Alben W. Barkley was "too old."

They said he was a fine gentleman and a distinguished public figure, but heavy with years, too many years, to be the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

But the Democratic convention is on fire today because of the man who was "too old."

It is blazing with the new life and spirit he breathed into it Wednesday night when he spoke to more than 12,000 people, whipped them into a frenzy of excitement, and stirred one of the unforgettable spectacles of a generation.

His appearance at the convention was intended as a kind of "consolation prize" for a man deeply hurt.

Three days before, the 74-year-old vice president was a candidate, campaigning actively to be his party's choice for the presidency.

THEN, AS he put it, "some self-anointed labor leaders" suddenly withdrew the support he had supposed they would give him. They said he was "too old."

And "Old Man" Barkley took himself out of the race.

There was a tremendous explosion of warmth and sympathy and affection when the "Veep" marched down the platform onto the rostrum Wednesday night. The organ began to play "My Old Kentucky Home" and rolling billows of music and cheering thundered through the great hall.

Barkley stood looking down at the demonstration, unsmiling, almost impassive. From time to time he waved and bowed, acknowledging a tremendous salute.

It went on for 24 minutes, constantly hitting new peaks of sound.

Finally, they let him speak.

He had no manuscript and the teleprompter was blank and dark. He said he had not had time, "since I received this invitation," to write a speech.

He said, "I am not here as a candidate for any office this convention can confer." In the back of the hall, and in the galleries, a chorus yelled up: "No! No!"

The "Veep" shook his head.

AS HE SPOKE, reviewing the 20-year record of the Democrats, his voice began to gather volume and momentum. He said:

"I believe the programs of the Democratic party give the greatest good to the greatest number of the American people and if I did not believe that, I would join some other party that does believe in those eternal and immortal principles."

Then he turned to the Republicans, recalling that Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP nominee, had said he was going to lead a crusade.

"We are not beginning a crusade," Barkley shouted. "We are continuing a crusade."

It is a crusade to see to it that every child born of woman should be born under conditions making it easy for him to live in a normal, wholesome atmosphere, with a chance for education to prepare himself for the burdens and responsibilities of life.

"The administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman have given the American people a greater share in the enjoyment of the fruit of their labor than any other administration in the history of the United States."

HE THEN TURNED to foreign policy. He reviewed the events between the two world wars, and the period that followed. He said Americans were drawn "unavoidable" into the two great conflicts.

The Republicans have called the Democrats a "war party" because there were Democratic presidents in office in 1917, 1941, and 1950 when American troops went to war, he said.

Barkley beat the air with his big fists and leaned forward, pressing against the shelf of the rostrum when he cried:

"When the Republicans say that under Democratic administrations there have been two great world wars, I ask them to tell the American people what they would have done if they had been in power on Dec. 7, 1941, when Pearl Harbor was attacked by Japan."

And he went on to say that American troops are in Korea today because "we pledged our word in San Francisco that as members of the United Nations we would come to the defense of any member nations under attack anywhere in the world."

OHIO DEMS Cannot Decide Which Bandwagon To Board

By REED SMITH
Ohio AP Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 24 — (P)—Ohio's "favorite son" delegates to the Democratic convention looked in all directions Thursday for a bandwagon to board.

As the time for presidential nominations neared, they tried to unite behind a sure winner, but they apparently had too many favorites.

Half of Ohio's 54-vote delegation stood solidly for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. But the other half split over Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia and Averell Harriman of New York, mutual security administrator. And some seemed likely to swing to Kefauver.

Almost forgotten was former Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, "favorite son" candidate of the state organization. Half of Ohio's delegates are pledged to give him a complimentary vote on the first ballot before switching to an avowed candidate.

ZOOMING sentiment for drafting the reluctant Stevenson gave most Bulkley delegates the jitters. They wondered if a rising tide might sweep him to a first ballot nomination and make them late for the bandwagon.

Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer pressed for an early decision on a plan to bypass Bulkley and possibly second Stevenson's nomination instead. Sawyer is a delegate at-large from Cincinnati.

Asked about a report he had turned up his Bulkley nominating speech, Sawyer said: "No comment on that."

Delegate spokesmen said Bulkley had four courses of action. He could:

1. Release delegates and ask no nomination.
2. Withdraw after nomination as did the late W. A. Julian of Cincinnati in the 1948 convention.

3. Release his delegates for transfer to another candidate after the first ballot but before the second.

4. Release them to go elsewhere on the second ballot.

Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, former price stabilizer and nominee for U. S. senator, predicted 25 of 27 Bulkley delegates would vote for Stevenson on the second ballot or sooner if released.

BUT OTHERS favoring Stevenson were less optimistic.

Three Bulkley delegates have expressed a second choice liking for Harriman and at least one said he would go for Kefauver. Herbert S. Duffy of Columbus, state delegation chairman and a Kefauver sponsor in Ohio, claimed nearly 10 Bulkley delegate switches to the Tennessee senator.

Sale Of House To Assist Band

GENEVA, July 24 — (P)—A group of Geneva residents built a Cape Cod style house in two days to raise $3,600 for new uniforms for the high school band.

The house, said to be in the $18,000 class, will be sold to the highest bidder.

HST Demands Steel Accord

Ultimatum Given Both Factions

WASHINGTON, July 24 — (P)—President Truman told the leaders of the warring steel factions in a dramatic face-to-face meeting in the White House Thursday they must settle quickly the devastating strike of steel workers.

Then the President sat the leaders of the two sides down to thrash out the issues which caused the strike that has closed down the nation's steel mills for 53 days.

A White House spokesman said Truman in talking with Benjamin Fairless, president of U. S. Steel Corp., and Philip Murray, head of the striking CIO union, used very strong language.

The appeal, the spokesman said, amounted to an ultimatum.

Acting Defense Mobilizer John R. Steelman, whose repeated mediation attempts to stop the crippling, 53-day strike have failed, was asked to sit in during the dramatic presidential appeal to both sides for an immediate end to the walkout.

LOOMING OMINOUSLY in the background was the threat of imminent paralysis to the nation's defense effort.

Defense Secretary Robert Lovett estimated that "somewhere between 20 and 30 per cent" of the expected arms production for this year would be lost because of the strike, the longest steel production stoppage in the nation's history.

Possibility of a crippling strike in a second vital industry—coal—made the picture even darker.

John L. Lewis was reported to have notified at least part of the soft coal industry the present contracts will end in two months.

Judging from past experience, that means a strike or slowdown in coal fields is all but inevitable if a new contract is not signed by Sept. 22.

Coal stocks are at near record levels—about 70 days supply on hand—and a strike in mid-September would indicate the pinch would begin to be felt about the time coal weather sets in.

The President said nothing in advance about a possible hold near plan to compromise the bitter steel dispute and bring a new work contract to 600,000 striking steelworkers.

But observers close to the situation said Truman would certainly appeal to the patriotism of leaders of both sides.

There was speculation, too, that he might suggest a new plan to deal with the union's demand for a union shop—an arrangement which compels all workers to join the union.

THE REPORT given the Air Force, in at least one instance while the object was still visible, was detailed and described it as a definite "saucer" sighting.

The Herald's source is a supervisory member of an official ground observation post, who has the information directly from his staff.

The official's story is as follows: "While I, myself, didn't see the saucer, I have it direct from the men who were on duty. They gave me the details and I know the information: they phoned to Columbus."

"About 11:30 p. m. Tuesday night, one of our men on duty noticed an orange-colored object of definite saucer shape in the western sky and fairly high. The first man who saw it, to double-check on his own sighting, asked a co-observer if he also saw 'anything' in the region indicated."

"The second observer immediately noticed the object and a report was phoned to the filter center. Our man was questioned very closely by an Air Force officer."

"The saucer was described as being well outlined and more or less motionless, except for brief jumping movements—and it was during one of these upward jerks that it suddenly disappeared."

(SOME "FLYING saucer" sightings in other sections of the country have described objects as making this same "jumping" movement, somewhat similar to that of a flat stone when "skipped" hard across smooth water.)

"My men said nothing as to any sound heard at the time, and there was no mention of anything like a vapor trail."

"About midnight, the object was clearly seen again—but this time

VICE PRESIDENT Alben Barkley answers a 25-minute ovation at the Democratic national convention before addressing the delegates as a presidential candidate who stepped out of the race. The Veep ridiculed Gen. Eisenhower's GOP "crusade" to save the American people and said that the Democrats have been crusading for 20 years to "lift the people from despair."

Trained Observers See 'Saucer' In Dayton Area; Pursuit Fails

A ground observer's report on how an orange-colored "flying saucer" was chased by three Air Force jet planes less than 100 miles west of here was given to The Circleville Herald Wednesday night.

The account has no connection with reports of high altitude objects, believed to have been balloons, over the Columbus sector Wednesday evening.

Authorities at Wright-Patterson Air Force base have admitted a recent marked increase in "flying saucer" reports, and unidentified lights in the sky have been noted by Circleville residents. However, details on the "glowing orange" object seen west of the city apparently have not as yet been released by the Air Force for general publication.

The "saucer" was seen by trained observers three times within two hours Tuesday night from a point between Dayton and Cincinnati, finally disappearing shortly before the arrival of jet planes, presumably from Lockbourne Air Base.

THE REPORT given the Air Force, in at least one instance while the object was still visible, was detailed and described it as a definite "saucer" sighting.

"About midnight, the object was clearly seen again—but this time

east of our post—between our section and the Circleville region."

"Again it was reported to the Air Force, but disappeared after being visible for probably four or five minutes."

"Then, about 1:30 a. m., it was seen for the third time—back again toward the west. And it was in response to our report this time that the Air Force notified us jets were being immediately dispatched to the area. Sure enough, they soon came roaring over."

"Also, by the way, my men tell me the planes seemed to cross the same section of the sky where the object had been, just as though they had the spot pinpointed."

"On at least one of our calls, the Air Force apparently was trying to pick up the saucer on radar even while our man was still on the phone. They kept asking him for details as to locations, and kept him on the line."

"As far as I know, though, they weren't able to see the thing on the radar."

Bandwagon Starts To Roll For Illinois' Reluctant Governor

CHICAGO, July 24 — (P)—Two close associates said Thursday afternoon that President Truman has passed along the word that he prefers Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The two party leaders said Truman's decision had been made in the light of a swiftly moving draft behind Stevenson's candidacy.

(Editor's Note: The Associated Press did not identify the source of its information other than "two party leaders.")

One of the President's associates told a reporter he thinks Truman's advocacy of Stevenson may well give enough impetus to the draft movement to bring about the Illinois governor's nomination on the first ballot Thursday night.

Stevenson's name was to be placed before the convention later in the day by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware.

the total of known prospective first ballot votes for Stevenson, as disclosed by an AP poll of delegates.

Kefauver has 263, Russell 165½, and Harriman 107.

Texas decided in a caucus to put all of its 52 votes behind Russell. Only 22½ of them previously had been committed to him, so the move shoved the Russell count at this point up to 195.

The Stevenson boom got another boost when Gov. Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts announced he would vote for the Illinois governor on the second ballot. He said he had made no recommendation to other delegates as to how they should vote.

The 36 Massachusetts votes were to go to Dever on the first ballot as a favorite son.

The 52-year-old Illinois governor may be tabbed on a short-count ballot with three Southern states—South Carolina, Virginia and Louisiana—sitting it out.

THIS DIXIE sitdown, prompted by a feud over a party loyalty pledge, seemed likely to impel the selection of a Southerner for second place on the ticket.

This would be a direct attempt to offset the reputed popularity of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, below the Mason and Dixon line.

For this role, delegates were pointing toward Russell of Georgia—if he would take it. Russell told his campaign strategists he couldn't conceive under any circumstances in which he would trade a powerful place in the Senate for the standby job of vice president.

If he is unavailable, Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama and Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas were handy.

There was some belief that the Southern fight on the convention floor during the last several days had "cooked Russell's goose."

Russell's campaign manager, Sen. Edward Johnson of Colorado, predicted the Georgia senator would win the presidential nomination by the 10th ballot.

Victim Tells Of Snake Bite Experience

A Circleville man recovering from a snake bite on his face Thursday told how he slashed the wound with a razor and had his wife suck out some of the venom with her mouth.

Earl Weaver, 59, of 471 Half avenue, returned home Wednesday following treatment in University hospital, Columbus. He apparently had virtually recovered from the bite, inflicted Sunday by a copperhead about two inches below Weaver's left eye.

Weaver at the time was visiting property he owns near Laurelville in the vicinity of Saltcreek. With his wife, Sadie, standing nearby, he was gathering a basket of chips at a pile of lumber at about 8 a. m. Sunday. The snake, hidden near the lumber, struck when Weaver stooped toward it.

WEAVER at first told his wife to take a razor and cut his face as part of the customary first-aid method, but Mrs. Weaver said: "I can't do it!"

Her husband then took a razor and cut the wound while standing before a mirror. Mrs. Weaver then pressed her lips to the wound and apparently drew off most of the venom.

Weaver at first agreed to try a neighbor's "old fashioned snake-bite remedy," which consisted of wet clay, turpentine and coal oil. Later, however, when he began to have a headache, he went first to Berger hospital and later to the hospital in Columbus, being admitted at 9 p. m.

It was said the local hospital at the time did not have the necessary medicines for that type of bite.

Weaver's face is still badly swollen and his left eye half-closed.

City Parking Lot Completed

A vacant lot behind Circleville's City Hall has been surface-treated and converted into a parking lot for city cars.

The area was surface-treated and levelled by city workmen following removal of a small, wooden garage which formerly housed the police department's three-wheel motorcycle.

Mechanic Hurt By Flying Steel

Harry Turner of 148 Town street, an employee of Harden Chevrolet Co., was injured Wednesday, when a small piece of steel flew into his right wrist while he was hammering on a car frame.

Turner underwent surgery Thursday morning in Berger hospital for removal of the steel from the joint.

Officer Temple Back At Work

Officer Bob Temple was back on the job with the Circleville police force Thursday following a five-day suspension by Police Chief William McCrady.

Temple was suspended last Friday for failing to notify the desk he did not plan to work his shift and for disrespect to the chief.

loyal public servants against unfounded and malicious attacks."

DEMOCRATIC foreign policies were applauded with special sections aimed at nationals in this country from Poland, Eastern Europe, Germany and many other areas.

Tax reductions were promised "as rapidly as defense requirements permit" and "especially for people with lower incomes."

The Democrats even used the "free enterprise" phrase of which Republicans are so fond, saying: "The free enterprise system has flourished and prospered in America during these last 20 years as never before."

The Labor Plank says "We strongly advocate the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. It has been proved to be inadequate, unworkable and unfair."

Regarding Agriculture, the Democrats pledge to "continue to protect the producers of basic agricultural commodities under the terms of a mandatory price support program at not less than 90 per cent of parity."

DEATHS And Funerals

MRS. J. FELIX RADCLIFF

Mrs. Ida Mae Radcliff, 76, of 521 East Main street, died in her home at about 5:07 p. m. Wednesday following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Radcliff was born Sept. 12, 1875, in Wayne Township, daughter of William and Elizabeth Gray Campbell. On Feb. 12, 1893, she married J. Felix Radcliff, who survives her.

Also surviving her are four sons, Sheriff Charles Radcliff, Deputy Sheriff Carl K. Radcliff and Harry Radcliff of Circleville and Paul Radcliff of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. Clydus Young and Mrs. Leonard Morgan, both of East Franklin street; 10 grandchildren; and five great grandchildren. She was a member of Trinity Lutheran church and the VFW Auxiliary.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home with Student Pastor Fred MacLean officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home. The sons and two sons-in-law will serve as pall bearers for the service.

GUY T. DRUM

Guy T. Drum, 72, of Amanda Township, Fairfield County, died of a heart ailment at about 7:25 p. m. Wednesday in Berger hospital, where he had been a patient for the last 11 weeks.

Mr. Drum formerly served as an Amanda Township trustee for 14 years and was a member of the Dresbach EUB church.

He was born Jan. 4, 1880, in Saltcreek Township, son of Allen and Louisa Heffner Drum. Fifty-one years ago he married Oddie Thomas, who survives.

Other survivors are two sons,

Ross Drum of Stoutsville, and Karl Drum, at home, an employee of The First National Bank in Circleville; two daughters, Mrs. Bernice Phillips of Covington and Miss Winifred Drum, at home; two brothers, Orton Drum of Lithopolis and Minard Drum of Stoutsville; nine grandchildren; one great grandchild and Miss Maxine Krisher, at home. Miss Krisher was reared in the Drum home.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the residence with the Rev. Carl Butterbaugh and the Rev. Ervin Kauffman officiating. Burial will be in Maple Hill cemetery by direction of Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

Friends may call in the residence, after Friday noon.

MRS. WAYNE BROBECK

Mrs. Sallie Brobeck, a former resident of Circleville, died Tuesday in Ashland, Ky.

Mrs. Brobeck was the widow of Wayne G. Brobeck, a native of Circleville, who died Dec. 21, 1950. She is survived by two daughters and a son.

A sister-in-law, Mrs. Bell Brobeck Hailey, taught school in Circleville for many years.

Graveside services were held

Thursday by direction of W. H. Albaugh Co. Burial was in Forest cemetery.

EMANUEL DRESBACH

Emanuel Dresbach, 79, of 226 Watt street, died at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday in his home following a long illness.

Mr. Dresbach was a retired auctioneer and farmer. He was a member of Trinity Lutheran church.

He was born Sept. 27, 1872, in Saltcreek Township, son of George and Julia Parcells Dresbach.

He is survived by his widow, Mary Haynes Dresbach, whom he married 57 years ago.

Other survivors are a son, Ned Dresbach, of Circleville; two daughters, Mrs. Chester Blue and Miss Julia Dresbach, both of Circleville; a sister, Mrs. Fannie Stage, of Columbus; five brothers, Pearl Dresbach and Delno Dresbach, both of Muncie, Ind.; Homer Dresbach of Chalmers, Ind.; George S. Dresbach of Circleville and Lewis Dresbach of Lancaster; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home with Student Pastor Fred MacLean officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home. Pall bearers will be Forrest Short, Marvin Dresbach, Donald Stage, James Mowery, Ben Dumm and Chester Blue.

NOW you can get BUICK POWER STEERING! on the SUPER too!

6-passenger Roadmaster Convertible.

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

Can you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straightaway?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—women especially—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflo Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuck-holes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in—or pick up your phone—and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. *Now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

Eisenhower And Stevenson Are Compared

Comparison Is Made Assuming Illinois Chief Gets Dem Nod

CHICAGO, July 24—(AP)—Suppose it is Adlai Stevenson vs. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the finals for the presidency?

The prospect that the Democrats will nominate Stevenson is now being taken almost as a foregone conclusion in Chicago.

And there is talk that the three other principal candidates — Sen. Estes Kefauver, Sen. Richard Russell and Averell Harriman — are adding columns of delegates to see what their combined total is.

In short, this "wide-open race" of four days ago now looks like a runaway.

If Stevenson opposes Eisenhower, when all this conventioning is done, the American voter will be called upon to choose between two men who are very much alike in some ways, totally different in others.

BOTH ARE of the West by birth — Eisenhower in Texas, Stevenson in California — and of the great plains by residence — Eisenhower in Kansas, Stevenson in Illinois.

Stevenson is 52. Eisenhower will be 62 in October.

They are both of average stature, stocky, and partly bald. Each has more than an average share of that rare quality that quickly wins over people, all types of people.

Each has a famous smile, a quick, springy step, electric gestures. They are both great and tireless conversationalists, and they, have in common, instant animation when an idea strikes fire.

Stevenson's background is crowded with well-to-do people, many of them distinguished, many of them public servants. One was a vice president of the United States; one was an adviser to Lincoln.

Eisenhower's forebears were simple people, strong, hard-bitten, pioneers in spirit, people who answered the call of the West in the century of American expansion.

Thus, in his speech, Eisenhower uses the figures and anecdotes of the plains states and the farms.

Stevenson, the scholar, quotes from Tacitus and St. Francis.

The governor works hard over a speech, writes innumerable drafts, comes to the platform, finally with a polished text — and then embroiders it with extemporaneous gems as he goes along.

Eisenhower is best when he is speaking off the cuff.

Neither is a professional politician. Neither came up from the grass roots, through the ranks, to the apex of the party.

Stevenson is serving the first term of his first elective office. Eisenhower has barely taken the plunge toward an office.

Lack Of Food Said Cause Of Low Milk Output

Heat and flies are often blamed for Summer slumps in milk production, whereas lack of sufficient feed is the main reason.

Earl Jones, Ohio State university extension agronomist, says: "If cows get plenty to eat, milk production declines only slightly in hot weather."

"But the trouble is many cows are not fully nourished, because blue grass pastures go down and there are not enough feed reserves available for dairy herds."

Cows need meadow crop pastures and sometimes emergency crops like Sudan grass to supplement bluegrass.

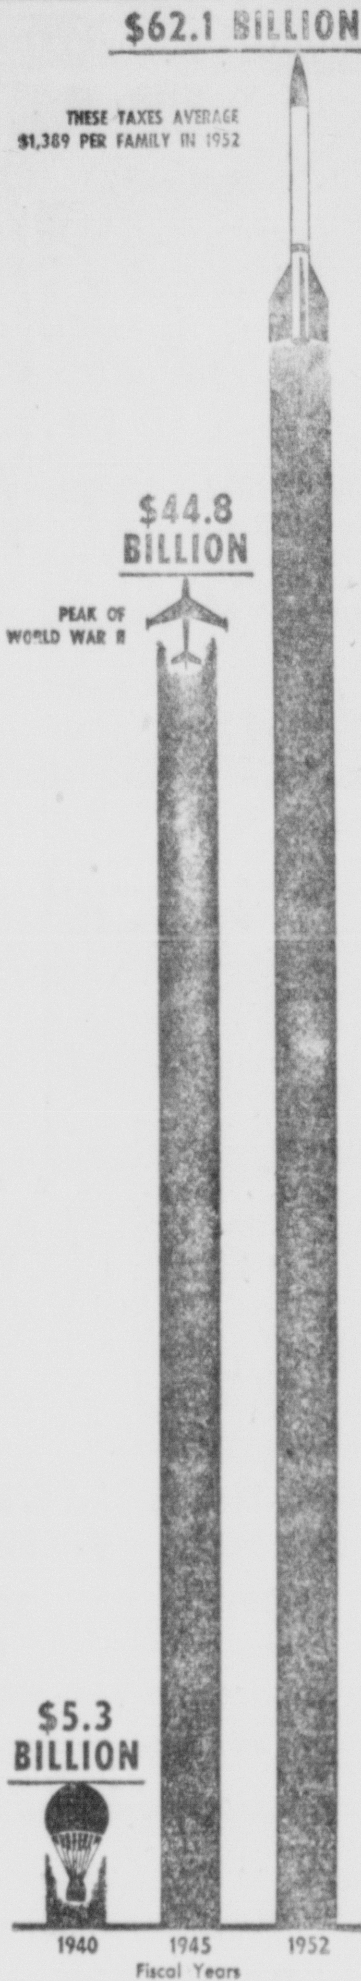

Jones urged farmers to develop a "complete pasture program" which provides feed enough to keep dairy cows well-filled all season long.

BY HARVESTING surplus Spring growth for grass silage or hay, dairymen can take care of all forage needs for the Summer. Second or third growth pasture can also be a bountiful feed source.

Getting and keeping good pasture stands is no accident.

Feeding the soil so it can feed the crops is vital. This means adding nitrogen, phosphate and potash fertilizer and lime where needed. Maintaining good pasture growth depends, too, on good grazing management.

Alexander the Great introduced peaches into Europe. He brought them back from Persia.

Taft Opens His Campaign Tour

WILMINGTON, July 24 — (AP)—Charles P. Taft, Republican candidate for governor, steered clear of partisan subjects Wednesday as he opened his campaign with a speech before Wilmington College students and townspeople.

Directing his remarks to the students, the GOP candidate declared "Colleges have very real job in getting young people to enter what is not only a worthy career but perhaps the highest career—public service."

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

There are thousands of selfish mothers who park or "pasture" their young children with their neighbors.

Often the neighbor mother welcomes such playmates for her children, especially if her own children have had few or no other playmates.

But there comes a time when she feels burdened by the too-frequent young visitor, and the more so if he has not been well disciplined.

The mother of two children, 4 and 2½, who had no playmates earlier but now have a boy playmate, 3, two doors away, writes: "Bob abides over here by day. He is allowed to come over and play all day without invitation regardless of how busy I am. He doesn't mind and if I correct him (by words only) he sasses me. He is very bossy and expects to have whatever I'm playing he wants."

"I punish my children when they leave the yard without permission. We live at the edge of town by a two-lane highway. We have a large back yard where they have plenty of room for play."

"Bob's mother calls, 'Is Bob over there?' after he has been here half a day. She never asks my children to play in her yard and I don't know what I would answer if she would, as I am not sure she would pay any attention to them. Bob's mother is not sick, nor has she any other children."

"I HATE to say our children must not play over there at all, but I have been tempted. I realize my children need playmates and that's the only reason that has prevented my taking this step. If I send Bob home when he has been unusually disobedient, he comes right back and I'm beginning to think he is sent. I have prayed about this but still am mixed up as to what I should do."

In answering this mother I wrote in about this way: Perhaps you should go to the other mother and give her a written schedule stating the daily periods when you would like to have her child come to your home and the periods when you don't want other children around.

Explain to her that you mean to send her boy home if he is there during the latter periods. Also make clear that you will send him home when he disobeys your wishes, after which you won't welcome his return for several hours at least.

That mother might be willing

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 12 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

to let you assign her little boy to sit in a chair for exactly twenty minutes when he's been bad, instead of sending him home.

This might help you train him to be a better playmate for your children.

But all this is very different from telling this child never to come at all, or your children not to play with him.

Even at the great burden and annoyance to you now, it would be better to have this boy spend some time at your home than to have no playmates for your children.

I wish I might prevail on young mothers not to impose on the kindness of a neighbor mother.

Q. Our daughter, 8, seems to be least happy of our children while at home. Could this have anything to do with her poor grades at school?

A. Yes, indeed. Anything you and Dad can do to make her feel more happy and secure in the family, should further her success at school.

Q. Won't explaining to the child the nature and source of the thing

Ohio Farmers Said Amazed By Harvests

COLUMBUS, July 24—(AP)—Bumper yields of wheat and oats are amazing Ohio farmers.

The U. S. Weather Bureau did not list any specific yields, but said "farmers are very much amazed at the quality and quantity of the wheat and oats harvest because they thought earlier in the season that the weather was not suitable for a good yield."

Wheat harvesting, the bureau said, has been completed over most of the state—except in a few northern counties. Oats harvesting now is well under way in most sections.

Corn is tasseling. It is slow in the northwest and north-central areas where wet, cool spring weather delayed planting.

The weekly weather bureau crop report said most Ohio farmers had cut alfalfa and clover for a second time and local truck crops are appearing at numerous markets.

he fears help him overcome this fear?

A. Sometimes it will. But you can talk too much for good effect. Usually it's a matter of helping him discover gradually from experience that he need have no fear.

Confidentially, it's sensational!

Wonder of wonders, you can make this gorgeous pie in little more than 15 minutes... no cooking, no baking!

16 graham crackers, crushed fine
4 tablespoons butter, melted
1 pkg. strawberry gelatin dessert
1 cup hot water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1 tall can Carnation Milk, chilled
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Mix crackers with butter and fine well-grated spring form or deep 9-inch pie plate, saving about 1/2 cup of mixture for topping. Dissolve gelatin dessert in hot water. Add lemon juice and sugar and let stand while whipping Carnation Milk to a stiff froth. Add gelatin mixture to whipped Carnation Milk and continue whipping till stiff peak is formed. Stir in lemon rind. Pour over cracker crust. Top with remaining crumbs. Chill about 4 hours or till firm. Serves 6 to 8. For variety, other gelatin dessert flavors and colors may be used in this recipe. For a Velvet Blend Use Carnation

World Today

By James Marlow
Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 24 — (AP)—Maybe Sam Rayburn just got something in his eye when the right eyelid dropped and opened, quick as a wink, or maybe it was a wink.

The 70-year-old Rayburn of Texas is famous in Washington for the smooth, fast and sturdy way he runs the House of Representatives. Wednesday night some of the delegates at the Democrat big show thought he was too smooth, too fast and far too sturdy.

If it was a wink, it may have meant he thought he had saved the convention from a blowup.

After the speechmaking, Rayburn got down to the business for which he'd been chosen:

Presiding over the convention as permanent chairman. He had inherited a hot rostrum.

The convention, scratching around for harmony, was still in convulsions about the fate of Louisiana, South Carolina and Virginia. Those three states refused to have anything to do with the loyalty pledge requiring all delegates to be good Democrats, at least for a little while, after returning home.

IF SOME OTHER delegation challenged the right of these three to vote on a candidate or party platform or even to be allowed in the convention at all, Rayburn would have to give the fatal ruling and there'd probably be a donnybrook.

First order of business confronting Rayburn was reading of the platform. This was done by Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, chairman of the Platform Committee. He then moved the platform be adopted.

Before McCormack had even started Rayburn confided to newsmen that a Tennessee delegate—this was Paul Whitaker, a supporter of Sen. Kefauver—wanted to ask the convention to include some suggestions of his in the platform.

Whitaker wanted the convention to promise in the platform there'd be a continuing crime investigation, such as brought Kefauver fame, plus a promise the rights of witnesses before committees would be protected.

If he could make the suggestion before the convention voted on the platform as a whole, he might have had a chance to get his proposals included. But if he spoke after the platform was adopted, his chance was gone.

INSTEAD OF calling Whitaker when McCormack finished, Rayburn asked the convention to vote on the platform. It was by voice vote.

He listened to the shouts of yeas and nos and decided the platform had been approved.

At once the Mississippi and Georgia delegations got Rayburn's eye. They said they wanted to be on

A NEW TECHNIQUE in "crushing out" of jail is found in Jackson county, Missouri, jail in Kansas City—just cut the bars with an acetylene torch. Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Hilburn points to the hole through which nine prisoners escaped. The acetylene equipment is shown at right. A guard and keys were seized, three prisoners found the acetylene equipment in a storeroom and used it to cut their way from 12th to 10th floor. Six others joined them and all fled to the street floor and broke out a door. Three were captured shortly. (International Soundphoto) record as voting no. The civil rights plank angered the Southerners.

If they tried to vote, and their right to vote was challenged, the fat might be in the fire. Rayburn suddenly announced Whitaker had asked to be heard but he had not been able to find him before. Now, Rayburn said, Whitaker could talk.

When that was done, in a moment or so, Rayburn suddenly banged his gavel, recessing the convention for the night. That ended any chance of a party split, for the time being, anyway.

As he turned his back on the convention and started to walk away from the rostrum, Rayburn's right eyelid suddenly snapped shut and just as suddenly snapped open as he looked at a friend.

4-H Demonstrations And First Style Revue To Be Presented By Clubs

Demonstrations Will Be Friday

Pickaway County 4-H Clubs will hold their home making demonstrations at 7 p. m. Friday in the Coliseum at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

These demonstrations consist of the preparation of foods, and sewing demonstrations, which may range from fitting a pattern to various methods of finishing parts of garments. The demonstrations can be given by individuals or by groups from 4-H Clubs.

Fifteen demonstrations are scheduled and some winners will be selected to go to the State Fair.

Awards for teams presenting demonstrations will be a cup to each member placing first; medal to each placing second; medal to each, third; medal to each, fourth, and 4-H Flag set for each, placing fifth.

For individuals making presentations, first award is a cup; second, medal; third, medal; fourth, medal; fifth, 4-H flag set. A ribbon will be given to those placing first through tenth.

Style Show

A style show will be presented Saturday evening, representing all the sewing which the members have done since the formation of the clubs earlier this year.

Ten girls will be selected in each class to present the style show during the Pickaway County Fair at the Grandstand, 6:4 p. m. Friday of Fair Week.

Classes for this show will be as follows:

A. Let's Sew, which includes first year members just beginning to sew. They are required to make three articles during the year such as tea towel, dust cloth, pin cushion, etc.

B. Articles to use and wear, members to sew towels, luncheon cloths, blouses etc.

C. Easy to make cotton dress. Members must make at least one cotton dress during the year over a simple pattern.

D. School dress. This classification is for girls with more sewing experience and a more difficult pattern is used.

E. Sport clothes, requires each member to make a garment for use in sports, working or playing. The next three classes include housecoat or pajamas, tailored clothes and dress-up dress.

The final class is the climax of all 4-H work and the biggest project. It is the complete costume class in which the member must make the complete costume and accessories of her selection must be displayed with this class.

In the Food Revue, the first class includes, salads, sandwiches and Summer drinks. During the course of the year, salads must be prepared 12 times, using four or more different kinds of salads; sandwiches must be prepared 10 times, using homemade filling and Summer drinks must be made eight times, without using commercial drinks.

Another group must prepare a recipe file and record all food preparation.

First year girls learn the basic seven foods and second year girls must learn meal planning, preparation and serving.

In the Home Project section, members must learn how to select furnishings and also learn methods of caring for the furniture and home.

During the year record books are kept by the members on all of these projects.

Your Carriage Is Important For Grace

Do you sit pretty, walk and stand pretty? If not, you are being mean to yourself and your figure, which shouldn't look rigid or b allowed to slump. Carry yourself splendidly and gallantly. It isn't the woman with the most expensive clothes who appears distinguished, but the one who knows how to wear her clothes and keeps her spinal column on the job.

Here is an exercise: stand with feet four inches away from wall. Now, spread feet four inches apart and lean against the wall. First bend your knees, then separate them. Take your buttocks away from the wall, dig your waistline into it. So far, so good. Now push your back up the wall until your legs are almost straight. Lift your chin so your neck is nearer the wall. Then walk away in the same position. This exercise is not as intricate as it sounds, and it is fun doing it.

Cross Your Ankles

When sitting, sit far back in the chair. Keep the upper portion of your body erect, but not rigid. Cross your ankles if you wish, but not your knees. Toes straight forward. Let your arms have an easy pose.

No movie star would ever have made the grade without a knowledge of correct carriage and graceful movements. No lady of fashion would have got that reputation without a natural air of distinction. She keeps her chest high, her head on the level, the abdominal muscles held in and upward.

Lugging Habits

The homemaker who lugs bundles of groceries must watch her lugging habits. She should not subject just one side of her body to strain, and she will do this if she always carries a heavy bag of merchandise under one arm. When having her parcels wrapped at the store, they should be divided into two packages of equal weight and equal size. Or, if that is impossible, she should stop now and then

Husband Finds Auctions Here Have Thrills All Their Own

Wife Escapes, Has Herself Buying Spree

Fast Action Keeps Man On Toes As Bargains Fly

By ED McCANN
Herald Staff Writer

The County Fair is rated one of the best, the Pumpkin Show brings visitors from thousands of miles and the district has its full share of other big attractions—but somehow it seems a guy really hasn't started to live until he's found himself at a Circleville auction.

It's a truly gay time even in itself, but the sport takes on exceptional features when:

(1) You get trapped in the shindig while chasing your wife, who drools with delight at the public sales.

(2) It's the first big house auction you've ever attended.

For any husbands who may become involved in such a fix, perhaps a precautionary word or two would be timely.

IF, UPON your arrival at the scene, you spot your wife weaving and running about the premises don't make the mistake of trying to wave at her. Keep in mind a man is selling things out loud down on the front lawn, and a wave of the hand can net you a bird's-eye maple bed, a curtain stretcher and a 1950 calendar.

Trying to call in your spouse by whirling your arm—like a freight brakeman waving his lantern at a Norfolk and Western engineer—is even worse. When the arm is swung clockwise it can mean: "I bid 35 cents. Counterclockwise can be interpreted: "I ain't a-goin' to bid until I see who else wants it."

Edge slowly toward your wife, casual-like, pretending you're not interested in what's being sold and saying at intervals:

"Lots of nice stuff here."

Sooner or later, of course, somebody will disagree with you, but this only proves the auction is up to par.

Above all, special care should be taken not to get too close to the auctioneer—or at least not in front of him. It's confusing to be looking around the crowd and he snaps you back to life with:

"You better pay attention to me! You wanted that lawn mower—I could see it in your eyes—and now you're out of luck!"

EVEN STANDING behind the man isn't always protection. There have been cases when the spectator only started to ask for a match and the salesman whirled around and chuckled:

"I heard you buddy—and I might say you've got yourself a wonderful bargain. Lug it out of here now before I toss it back on the market! "Thirty-five! Who'll give forty? Come, come folks—don't embarrass me. Who'll give forty? Forty-five! Hey, you over there—keep your eye this way! Forty-five! Fifty!"

It might also be wise to stay alert while you sidestep, do-sedo and break off tackle through the customers. Sales frequently are fast at an auction, and at times it's easier to throw things than it is to carry them around.

Bed sheets, pillows, blankets ("Izzat wool?"), "I don't know, lady, I never saw the sheep!") and similar articles can take to the air suddenly from person to person. And there's nothing sillier than a man wandering around at a Summer afternoon auction with a blanket over his head.

Moreover it could be misunderstood. A woman might shake her finger and shout:

"You're only trying to jack up the price!"

BY THE TIME you get within elbowing distance of your wife (use your elbow, because by that time she'll be so thrilled she wouldn't feel it if you just kick her shins), she will have already put you in hock for six months.

There won't be anything you can do about it, so don't let it worry you. Worry instead about dragging the stuff to the truck over yonder.

Sympathetic husbands will help, but they've got their own troubles. Without half trying, you can look around and see other fellows trying to push, shove, punch, tilt and kick a dresser, one floor lamp, a rocking chair and an electric fan across the lawn—pausing only to pick up a living room chair en route.

(Special caution: Never try to pick up the chair while a strange lady is resting in it. It could break up the auction.)

The accepted method to put an end to it all and get your wife out of there is to tell her to pay for the stuff, pray they won't cash the checks too soon and look around for a lift with the load.

The town's full of folks who will help you complete the job with a helping hand—take, for examples, Gene Barthelmas, Roy Huffer Jr. or Talmer Wise, or dozens of others who may be around. But even in those final minutes you can't afford to relax.

GENE AND ROY have a theory the best way to carry a bed to the truck is to boost it right over the porch railing and go as the crow flies. The idea gets the task finished sooner, but if you're not careful you can find yourself going around the wrong side of a tree, and it's often rough plowing through the shrubbery.

As for Talmer, he specializes in carrying the front end of a clumsy dresser weighing only a few ounces less than a tractor-trailer. If by chance you should be on the back end when Talmer starts going downhill, a high degree of skill will be necessary.

If you prefer to practice in advance for such a moment, you can get the same feeling by trying to shove a piano down a flight of steps and then changing your mind at the last second. Under such circumstances it's best not to try to holier: "Wait a minute!"

Far better to save your breath, because Talmer at the front end

Barkley Awarded First Full House

CHICAGO, July 24 — (AP)—Vice President Alben Barkley drew the first full house of the two national conventions Wednesday night.

For the first time since the big political rallies began, every one of the 14,000 seats in Convention Hall was occupied for Barkley's speech. Late arrivals were turned away at the gates.

Democratic convention officials on Tuesday adopted a policy of admitting the general public to take seats not claimed by ticketholders.

won't be able to stop anyway. By that time it's either "here-we-go" or "how-many-ribs-are-crushed?"

Usually, while you're loading, other husbands come up and whisper condolences. There's one fellow who nods knowingly when you explain and then says:

"Serves you right. I never let my wife out of my sight."

This, at any rate, should be the closing formality at the scene. But on days when it looks as though it could rain, one last word of advice is needed.

If you've got an umbrella with you, hang onto it with both hands. There have been cases when a guy laid his down to help push and a woman grabbed it and holiered:

"It's not in good condition, but I'll take it for 75 cents!"

Ohio Lady Loses 48 Lbs. Rennel Gets Results Where Other Reducers Fail

Mrs. S. A. Wilson, R.R. 2, Box 128, Sharonville, Ohio writes: "I can certainly recommend Rennel Concentrate for reducing. I had tried other reducers without success before I started using Rennel. I weighed 178 lbs. I was short of breath and unable to do much walking or climb the stairs. Since I have been taking Rennel I have lost 48 lbs. and I climb the stairs without any effort, and can go to bed and sleep well the whole night through. Many of my friends are now using Rennel with very excellent results. Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this safe, effective Rennel formula. It's simple—low in cost and fully guaranteed. Obtain liquid Rennel Concentrate at your drug store. Mix with fruit juice as per instructions on bottle, and take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. You eat normal, regular meals. No need to starve yourself—No tablets to fortify you against weakness while following rigid, unpleasant diets, because Rennel in liquid form safely takes care of your desire for sweets and fatty foods. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time it dehydrates and eliminates, almost like melting fat. You feel better, more peppy, more alive, but never starved or hungry. Most important of all, note how easily and naturally your excess weight fades away, how quickly facial features, how much better you look and feel as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Results are guaranteed with the very first bottle. Insist on genuine Rennel Concentrate. $1.40 at your drug store now."

Fems Propose 'Girlcott' Of Both Political Parties: Men Too Rude

Editor's Note: "Politics is a man's game" concludes Trellis Mae Peeble, America's average wife, as created by Hal Boyle, in a letter home to her husband about the Democratic National Convention.

By HAL BOYLE

CHICAGO—(AP)—Dearest Wilbur:

If I learn nothing else from the Democratic National Convention, I at least have learned this—politics is really for men. Women had better stick to matrimony, where the rewards are surer and they can be certain of at least one man's ear.

Yes, politics is for men. And men deserve politics—the heartless beasts.

I am boiling mad at all male Democrats today for the way they behaved during Ladies' Day in Convention Hall. If I had my way I'd have every woman in America boycott (or should I say girlcott?) both the Republican and Democratic parties, and form a new political party—the "For Women Only Party."

Since there are one million more voting women than men in the United States, how would all the dirty, nasty, old, cigar-chewing donkey-and-elephant politicians like that? They and their silly old delusions of masculine superiority!

I guess I had better begin from the beginning, honey. Anyway, political conventions are now like baseball parks. They have a "Ladies Day" just to prove they recognize the existence of two sexes.

The leading female politicians are invited to speak. And Tuesday afternoon the donkey delegates heard—or, I might say, should have heard—Perle Mesta, minister to Luxembourg, Eugenie A. Anderson, ambassador to Denmark, and Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the United States.

These ladies just looked simply lovely. I would hate to say how much they must have spent on new hair-dos and gowns. It was the big moment of four years for them—a kind of middle-aged junior prom.

They had worked hard on their speeches and had really interesting things to say—all about how women should take a more active part in politics, and how nice it is we don't have a depression any more, and whether do we go from here?

What happened? The ladies in the gallery applauded nicely. But the men delegates on the floor? They acted more like real donkeys than delegates. You would have thought they were all married to each lady speaker—the way they refused to listen. They just roamed around the floor, laughing and scratching, telling jokes and eating hot dogs. Simply disgusting!

Tuesday night Mrs. India Edwards, the vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was so angry she bawled them out. She threatened to go and sit down if they wouldn't listen to her.

Since they went right on laughing and scratching and eating hot dogs, she just stood there. Now I hope she is nominated vice president and elected. She'll make those men senators listen later!

But I suppose the men delegates finally got ashamed of their lack of chivalry. Because when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was introduced as "The First Lady of the World" they cheered her more than they did anybody else.

"They ought to," whispered my new friend, the dubious delegate from Texas. "Half the people here got jobs from her husband."

What I would like to do is to organize the women here and have them hiss and boo every time a man gets up to speak. A man will never listen to a woman—but nothing drives him crazier than finding out a woman won't listen to him. Even a Democratic politician could not stand that.

Your very own,
Trellis Mae

Here's why a GE ELECTRIC RANGE keeps your kitchen cooler!

An Electric Range is the only range that has a completely insulated oven! Complete insulation keeps the heat in the oven... and keeps the kitchen 14 to 16 degrees cooler. You are more comfortable... meal-getting more pleasant.

Surface cooking is cooler too! The utensil rests directly upon the heating unit... not inches above it. So, no heat is wasted into the kitchen. Electric cooking is better in every way, cool, clean, fast, economical. Switch to a modern GE Electric Range.

1 cup flour      1/4 tsp. salt
2 tsp. salt      1/4 lb. butter or oleo
1/2 tsp. paprika      1 frying chicken

Melt butter or oleo in shallow pan.
Mix dry ingredients in paper bag.
Place several pieces of chicken in bag and shake until coated.
Put chicken, skin side down, in a single layer in baking pan.
Bake for 30 minutes in a 375 deg. oven, then turn chicken and continue baking for another half hour.

Eavey's FRYERS

Eavey's quality fryers are fully guaranteed. They are the finest, plump, most tender chickens on the market. Eavey's fryers are scientifically pen fed and processed when only 10 to 12 weeks old. Our slogan "More Meat and Less Bone," also applies to Eavey's quality chickens. Save by buying your fryers at Eavey's, whole, already cut up and tray packed, or your favorite piece. When you taste the difference, you'll also say—Eavey's quality chickens are the best.

A-V Amblings

By ANNE VERITY

We have had quite a few requests from those of you who did not get a copy the first time, for a reprint of my favorite oven-fried chicken recipe. You will find it at the top of the page, along with the announcement of EAVEY'S SUPER MARKET'S sale of their own luscious frying chickens. I know you will like this recipe. It doesn't involve the usual watching and turning that is required when chickens are fried on top of the stove. Try it with EAVEY'S tender and juicy young fryers. Your family will clean the platter and ask for more!

Around the neighborhood we have been discussing ways and means of keeping cool while the temperature soars. Everyone seems to agree that one certainly feels the heat far more by doing nothing than by keeping busy. However, the young home-makers in this area also agree that summer is far too short to spend all the time indoors, keeping a spotless house and having lavish dinners, than making the most of the fair weather out-of-doors. It's really ridiculous now to spend a lot of time cooking when there are so many easily prepared meals on the market now. And I've noticed my house doesn't get so dirty if we all spend the majority of our time in the yard. The washing and ironing can be easily cut down, too, with all the miracle fabrics now available. Life is just too short, and your children are young such a short time, that it really is foolish to spend all your time in the very short summers the weatherman allots to this area!

This is the corn-on-the-cob season, and every year we can hardly wait until it appears on the market. It is our favorite food (well, almost!) and we would eat it three times a day. I didn't insist on a certain amount of variety. We had the best ever this week from EAVEY'S, it tasted like it had just been taken from the garden. Upon inquiring about it, I found that the unusual flavor is due to a special ice-water processing that keeps it sweet from the time it is picked until it arrives at your table. I didn't have time before the column was due to go to press to get all the details for you, but I will let you know more about it next week. In the meantime, be sure to try some, it really is unusual.

Thanks for all your household hints and letters. Just keep sending them to ANNE VERITY, THE EAVEY COMPANY, XENIA, OHIO.
